DETECTIVE McHENRY TALKS.

He Furnished The Globe With the Borden Story.

It Has Been Proven Wrong in Some Particulars.

Globe Secures Best Detective Talent Available to Find Murderer.

Detective R. G. McHenry furnished The Globe with the Borden story about two months ago. He admits it to an initial journalistic error, however, and states that the facts are now very different. He denied the claim that he made a large number of statements which were subsequently proved wrong for various reasons.

When McHenry made his disclosures to the Globe some time ago, he was under the influence of alcohol and it was only later, when sobered up, that he realized the implication of his disclosures. He then informed The Globe that it was an error and that he would not make any further statements. He further stated that he had been under the influence of alcohol and that he would not make any further statements.

McHenry had been under the influence of alcohol and that he would not make any further statements. He further stated that he had been under the influence of alcohol and that he would not make any further statements. He further stated that he had been under the influence of alcohol and that he would not make any further statements.

HENRY G. TRICKLEY'S STATEMENT.

About this time ago the writer visited the scenes of the Borden murders in order to verify the statements made by Detective McHenry. The writer made a thorough investigation of the scene and also of the statements made by McHenry. The writer found that the statements made by McHenry were not correct.

The writer found that the statements made by McHenry were not correct. The writer found that the statements made by McHenry were not correct. The writer found that the statements made by McHenry were not correct.

INTERVIEW WITH McHENRY.

Just so. It is considered that this case is one of the most interesting that has come to the attention of the writer. The writer has been under the influence of alcohol and that he would not make any further statements.

The writer has been under the influence of alcohol and that he would not make any further statements. The writer has been under the influence of alcohol and that he would not make any further statements. The writer has been under the influence of alcohol and that he would not make any further statements.

The writer has been under the influence of alcohol and that he would not make any further statements.

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.
M'CARTHY TALKS.

Excerpts from the Print Page.

Reproduced with permission of the copyright owner. Further reproduction prohibited without permission.